prices fail to reveal noteworthy changes as a result of the day's operations. The opening was strong and higher, in sympathy with cabled advices from London of improving monetary conditions and higher prices for American securities at that cener. An active arbitarge inquiry was also noted. The bulls were encouraged by the appearance of commission house orders, which included some of the gilt-edged class of securities. The continued rally was regarded as natural, and there was a greater sposition to take a matter-of-fact view of the approaching reassemblage of Congress.
There were evidences of the pool's support and covering of shorts was also a feature of the forenon session. The more seasonable weather was considered a legitimate ex-planation of a brisk demand for the anthra-cite coal shares, and New Jersey Central was especially prominent. The changes in the prices of this stock were marked at intervals, owing to realization on the one hand and also on covering. An extreme gain of 2 per cent. was followed by a loss of one-half of the improvement. Lackawanna rose 1% on the purchase of 200 shares. Consolidated Gas, which has been prominent in the market of late, in connection with a variety of ingenious but thus far unfounded rumors and reports, fluctuated widely and reflected active manipulation. The stock left off 2 per cent. higher,

Revival of gossip regarding the undoubted strong financial position of the Omaha Company, and renewed rumors of a favorable dividend on the common, which are being taken seriously in speculative circles, contributed toward a rise of 2 per cent. in that stock and strengthened the general list. The bears made a decided effort to check the upward movement around midcheck the upward movement around mid-day, and by directing considerable pressure against the high-priced shares precipitated declines in the general market, some stocks receding to below Tuesday's final figures. Support was noted at intervals, but the general speculation during the afternoon was practically featureless. Sugar was again under pressure, and American Spir-its, common and preferred, yielded sharply, but made a partial recovery later. Chicago Gas developed aggressive strength in the Gas developed aggressive strength in the final dealings and closed 1% per cent. net higher. The general market closed heavy

The bond market ruled firm and higher for most issues. Rio Grande Western interests were unusually active, and improved 14 per cent. A good foreign demand was noted for investment and speculative account with the bonds of reorganized properties in request. The sales were Government bonds were featureless, on

When Asked if He Murdered Vorhis He Replied Evasively.

At 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon detec-Ky., with the long-looked-for Harvey Sinshot that ended the life of Cal Vorhis one in sympathy with the decline in wheat and Monday night about two months ago on Indiana avenue. Singleton was under arrest in Harrodsburg for hog stealing, and the down until it got as low as 261/6@261/4c and detective had some trouble in extraditing recovered from that to 26%c, where it detective had some trouble in extraditing him. Singleton did not seem to be worried as he stood in the cell at the police station. When asked where he had been all this time he said, with a smile, "Oh, I just been traveling. Since that murder I have been back in this city, but I don't know when it was. Lots of people would like to know that," and he smiled grimly.

affray?" "Well, I was with George White and Joe Porter when it occurred. I didn't fire the shot. I walked down Indiana avenue and didn't run. I hadn't anything to run for."

"Did you leave the city that night?" "Say, you're looking for information ain't you?" "Did you fire that shot?" "Why, I never owned a revolver in my life, and I never carried one, either, so how could I have fired the shot? "Well, did you have one that night?" "I told you I never owned one, so how could I have had one that night?" Singleton would not answer the question directly, but persisted in putting counter questions. When told that White and Porter both claimed that he fired the shot, he simply grinned and said: "They have got to put up a defense, haven't they? I'm not making any charge against them, because I'm innocent. Let them get out of it the best way they can.' "Why did you go away if you are inno-

"Why, my father-in-law lives in Kentucky, and, as I am a brick molder by trade, and had some contracts to look after down there, I went on business" "Were you arrested for hog stealing "No; I ain't got no business to steal hogs They arrested me because they thought there was a reward for my capture, and wanted to get it. That's the way with them Kentucky people, always after money."

SIMPSON'S RABBIT FOOT.

Colored Man's Case.

Jerry Simpson, a colored man, living with his wife at No. 24% Malott avenue, is the proud possessor of a rabbit's foot, warranted to ward off all evil. The fetich Simpson took a few glasses of beer too many yesterday evening, and went home in a quarrelsome mood. In a few minutes he was quarreling with his wife. Fierce and loud the combat arose, and neighbors. fearing that bodily harm was about to be done, called for the police. Simpson saw an officer coming, and ran to the second story of his house. As the officer entered the door Simpson plunged from the window. He fell upon his head. He was senseless when carried into the house. An examination showed that Simpson was pretty badly dazed, but beyond a few scratches he appeared to have escaped without fatal injuries. The physicians reported that until he recovered from the influence of liquor it would be impossible to tell how serious his injuries were. It was while removing his clothing that the rabbit's foot was found.

HEAVY LIQUIDATION RESULTED IN A FINAL DECLINE OF 1 1-8C.

Stronger Market at the Opening, Gave Way-Coarse Grains Lower-Provisions Firm.

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.-Wheat ruled weak all day and closed at a decline of 1%c. This was due almost entirely to liquidation, as the news as a rule favored higher prices. The weakness was communicated to other grain markets, corn closing 1/4c lower and oats %c lower. Provisions held up stubbornly, closing 5c lower to 5c higher.

For a short time after the opening today wheat was strong and higher. Liverpool opened 1/4 higher for wheat futures, and the effect of that on the general sentiment was at once seen in a 1/2c rise in the price of May when trading commenced. For about fifteen minutes it looked as if yesterday's sickness in the bull herd had passed, but such was not the case, as subsequent events quickly revealed. The first transactions in May were at from 83%c to 84c. But in half an hour May was down 2%c, to 82%c, and in another half hour after rallying to 83%c it slid off to 82%c. Liquidation and that alone was responsible for the decline. A good deal of long December wheat was thrown on the market in the forenoon, and those who expected to get wheat on their purchases for this month in time to ship it East before the close of navigation were among the sellers. Longs who had any profits left were inclined to realize and secure it, while those who had a loss also sold out, fearing that the loss might be increased as the speculative situation seemed very unpromising for the moment from the bull standpoint. Receipts at Minneapolis and Duluth amounted to only 316 cars, as compared with 445 last week and 833 last year. Chicago receipts were thirty-two cars, against thirty-seven last week and 173 last year. figures had no effect on the market. By 12 o'clock the price had worked down to 81%c. The feeling continued weak and depressed in the afternoon, although the price recovered 1/2c from the lowest point, tive Thornton arrived from Harrodsburg, May resting at 82%c, or 1%c below the price it stopped at yesterday. Trading in corn was spiritless. The general tone of the market was heavy, partly opened a shade lower at 26%c and worked Oats were heavy and lower, with a big business transacted. The feature of the market was the free liquidation of May by the crowd in general, which caused an independently weak feeling. There was a slight improvement near the close. May opened %c higher, at 21%c. declined to 21% @21%c and closed easy at 21%c bid. that," and he smiled grimly.

"Did you have any part in that shooting The day's run of hogs was almost unprecedented, but its effect was felt only at the opening. Strong support was given and the early decline was soon recovered. At the close May pork was 5c higher, at $8.021/2; May lard 2½c lower, at $4.15@4.17½; May ribs about 5c lower, at $4.05@4.07½.

BOSTON, Dec. 2.-The American Wool and Cotton Reporter will say to-morrow of the wool trade: The week's sales in Boston, Philadelphia and New York aggregate $,821,300 lbs, 5,756,700 being domestic and 3,064,600 foreign. Since January the aggregate sales of the three markets have been 224,096,550 lbs. as compared with 326,426,705 lbs last year. The market is active in spots and the general feeling is very firm. The market is hardly as buoyant as just after election, as expectations have not been realized as regards prices and the volume of or ders. The greater part of the wool taken out of the market the past week has gone to large manufacturers, the small mills not being much in evidence. Fleece wools continue to be held very firmly. This tendency on the part of the trade has unquestionably resulted in a larger business in Territory and foreign wools than would otherwise have taken place. Some very fair-sized blocks of Territory have been purchased during the week, sales considerably ex-ceeding those of the previous week. LONDON, Dec. 2 .-- At the wool auction sale to-day 13,615 bales were offered, of which 1,000 were withdrawn. A good catalogue was offered, and faulty, greasy and merinos were irregular while other wools were firm. The attendance was large. Action of Trustees of the Pittsburg

Carnegie Library.

PITTSBURG, Dec. 2.-After deliberating over the matter for a full year the board of trustees of the Pittsburg Carnegle Library has decided that hereafter the citizens of Pittsburg shall have Sunday concerts in the music hall. This decision was arrived at after several lengthy petitions for and against the movement had been presented and considered. Rev. Dr. J. T. McCreery, who represented the Union of Evangelical Ministers, opposed Sunday concerts on the ground that the plan was an entering wedge to destroy the sactity of the American Sunday and that it would furnish a stepping stone for other infractions. He also saw danger of the music hall becoming a meeting place for young couples desiring to carry on a clandestine courtship, and had numerous other objections to make to the opening. Notwithstanding these ob jections, the trustees decided in favor of Sunday concerts, and, beginning with Dec. 18, free concerts will be given in the music hall every Sunday afternoon.
